Dear Parent / Carer

Re: Coronavirus Update.

Following the statements from the Prime-minister and Education Secretary this evening, Haselworth Primary School will be closing at 3pm on Friday 20th March until further notice.

Mr Johnson has announced that schools will close but will remain open to the children of key workers and the vulnerable, for the foreseeable future. Children who do not fall under these categories will remain at home. We have no further information about what this means or what it will look like in practice. As soon as we have the answers to the many questions we all have, we will let you know.

The school will be open as normal on Thursday and Friday, providing that staffing levels allow the school to operate safely.

However, as in previous communications, if your child has an underlying health condition, it is absolutely parental choice if you choose to implement the social distancing guidance, please follow the pupil absence reporting systems in the morning.

In addition, if one person in the family has any Coronavirus-like symptoms, such as a cough or high temperature, the entire household must self-isolate for 14 days.

The school has been preparing for the possible closure. Home learning packs have been created, Seesaw has been set up to provide home learning and the webpage has home learning weblinks and documents in the 'Children' section of the website menu.

Further updates will follow over the coming days

Kind regards,

Mrs Jones
Headteacher
